Robinson, Postlewait, Judson Homes Excel In Light Contest

Judges Award Prizes After Lengthy Discussion; Many Homes Under Consideration Up To Very Last.

Many Homes Are Decorated

The Christmas Home Lighting Contest, sponsored by the Rural Valley Advance, came to a close Friday evening, December 24th, when the judges inspected every home in the borough that had been decorated in any way for the holiday season. We understand that some difficulty was experienced by the judges in coming to a decision, due to the fact that there were several homes decorated in an almost equally beautiful design. However, after viewing some of the places twice, and after a considerable discussion, the prizes were awarded as follows:

CREE ROBINSON HOME—First Prize. (Proctor Electric Roaster.) The Robinson home was tastefully decorated, using the contour of the building as a base and blue lights to brighten the effect. The Robinson's made use of the motif of exschemes on up the street, but one particularly deserving of mention was the M. E. Croyle home. The Croyles usually decorate for the holiday season, but this year the effect was just a trifle better than previous years. Wreaths, evergreens and colored lights were very tastefully combined to form one of the show places of the Valley.

The Robert Dixon home is another that merits more than casual mention. The decorations were built around a scene of the nativity and were arranged with unusual regard for effect. The lighting system was well arranged and the trimmings of evergreen were of sufficient abundance to complete a very pretty ensemble.

The Mrs. Carrie Dixon home was brave in display of lights and evergreen trim and so placed that it was the first to welcome the wayfarer coming down the hill into the Valley. Up on First Street the honors were done by the McKelveys, with an exquisite arrangement of blue lights over an arched entrance.

It is our regret that we are unable to procure prizes for all who so splendidly cooperated in making the town reflect the spirit of Christmas—the majority of those decorating did so, we are positive, with very little idea of winning a prize and it is for this attitude that we are particularly grateful.

We wish to express our appreciation to the judges who, for no recompense, undertook a very difficult task. We are glad that we were not called on to make a decision, for we know that it was almost impossible to determine just who should be a prize winner.

NUMINE PRINCIPAL AND KITTANNING TEACHER WED

Miss Mabel C. Stewart, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Stewart, of this place became the bride of Kirtland J. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Snyder, also of Rural Valley, in a quiet wedding that took place in the Presbyterian parsonage in Rural Valley Saturday, December 25th, the Rev. S. D. Register officiating. The ceremony was performed at high noon and the couple were attended by Miss Maxine Stewart and Craig Stewart, brother and sister of the bride and Miss Laura Snyder, a sister of the groom.

Following the ceremony the wedding dinner was served in the Stewart home and shortly afterward the newlyweds took a train at Pittsburgh for New York City, where they planned to spend the week.

Mr. Snyder is the Principal of the NuMine School, a position he has held for the past ten years. Mrs. Snyder is a member of the faculty of the Kittanning Schools, where she is a Home Economics instructor. Both are highly esteemed locally and enjoy the best wishes of a host of friends for all the good things a long and happy married life may bring.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENTS GREATLY ENJOYED HERE

The Christmas programs prepared and produced by the school and the three churches of this place during the holiday season were greatly enjoyed by a large number of local people. The first was given by the Rural Valley Lutheran church on Sunday evening and is reported to have been a splendid piece of entertainment.

On Wednesday evening the Rural Valley Presbyterian church held their program before a large and visibly impressed audience. Then on Thursday evening the grade school held a well planned program in the Grange Hall, to which parents and friends were invited. Quite a number availed themselves of the invitations and thoroughly enjoyed the event. On Thursday evening, the Rural Valley Method-

The home of Publisher and Mrs. H. O. Peters of Rural Valley was the scene of a unique, but very pretty wedding Christmas Eve, December 24th, 1937, when their second daughter, Lecta, became the bride of William Earl Whiteman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Whiteman, of Yatesboro. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. C. L. Moore, pastor of the Rural Valley Methodist church, and the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was used. Only members of the immediate family and a few intimate friends were present.

The Peters home was beautifully decorated for the occasion in the appropriate Yuletide motif and promptly at eight o'clock, to the beautiful music of one of Greig's classics, played by Miss Cleora Peters, younger sister of the bride, the pastor and groom joined themselves in an appropriate spruce bow and Christmas lights. They were followed by the bride's father, T. Shirley L. niece line ring bridesmaid, sister of the groom, Mynette W. of the groom, co-procession. Immediately

MORE DEER STORIES

Since the publication of our last issue, it has been reported that John Bittinger of near Echo had bagged a buck during the second week of the deer season. That animal was killed with a "pumpkin ball" on the fifth shot. Kenneth Bittinger also downed a buck during the second week.
 Gordon Groves is reported to have made a noble effort to down a buck, but after fifteen shots had been fired at him, the buck evidently decided to try some other way of committing suicide and stalked away. Due to a certain ruling of the camp Gordon was in, he returned with only a remnant of his shirt. We were told that practically all of the garment remaining intact was the neckband.

The Governor said:

ROAD MARKERS MUST CONFORM TO STANDARDS

By Warren Van Dyke

Harrisburg, Dec. 29—The Department of Highways has issued regulations fixing uniform standards for traffic signs, signals and markings on all highways for the first time in Pennsylvania's history.

A Manual of Standards under my direction, directed only "official" markers are marked and lists the desir-

Fourth National Conference on Street and Highway Safety." Heretofore, "appropriate," or "proper" signs were required. Existing signs posted by local subdivisions, civic organizations and commercial interests will be either removed, altered or adjusted to conform with the established standards.

Modern highway speeds and complex intersections require signs which can be seen and understood at long distances. The value of any sign depends on its correct and constant application. Uniformity and standardization of traffic signs will familiarize operators of motor vehicles with existing or impending regulations, restrictions and hazards.

The manual consists of two sections: the first devoted to interpretations of signs and signals, their position, classification and application; and the second part to illustrations of the new markers and manner of installation.

With standardization of traffic signs, signals and markers on all our highways, a distinct contribution will be made to highway safety and to our efforts to promote travel throughout the State.

Different signs of guide and warning signs often confuse the motorist and a unified system should eliminate any difficulty he may have in finding his way over the highways.

The manual is being sent to all authorities, motor clubs, and any agencies interested in highway safety.

Material and data for the publication was assembled by the Department's newly-organized Traffic Division which is headed by H. Ross Boas.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

From—Congressman Joseph Gray

HAPPY NEW YEAR—I wish to take this opportunity of wishing all my constituents and the Publisher of this newspaper a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous New Year. I also fervently hope that the coming year of 1938 will find all of us enjoying more of the better things of life and that in the turbulent days to come, this great nation of ours shall continue to avoid any entanglements that may lead to war. Here I earnestly and clasp all of you.

TRAVEL SESSION—When Congress meets for a regular session on January 3, it will be able to get down to work.

Legislative primaries that can be held in the weeks at beginning of the year will be eliminated.

Income Tax—New taxes on income will be levied to pay the cost of the new taxes.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION—Twenty-two States will be paying unemployment compensation benefits on January 1, 1938. Unemployed workers who are eligible to receive such payments. While the actual disbursements of the benefits may be carried out by different methods, in need than ever for a neutrality law that will insure our keeping peace over here. Rep. Ludlow's resolution proposing a constitutional amendment under which Congress would only have power to declare war providing the United States is invaded, with a national referendum vote to be taken before Congress could declare a war, has been discharged from committee and is scheduled for early consideration.

FARM MACHINES—A reminder of the broad changes that engineering developments in farming have made in the way of life on the American people preface the annual report to Secretary Wallace. A century has passed since the invention of the steel plow and the grain harvester. Today there are more than 1,250,000 farm tractors in use, electric power is available on 1,000,000 farms, 85,000,000 acres of the best agricultural land are in organized drainage districts, 19,000,000 acres are under irrigation in the west, and supplemental irrigation is now practiced on nearly 1,000,000 acres in the humid part of the country.

SANTA CLAUS—In at least one instance in the United States Santa Claus will be on the receiving end of a Christmas Present. Postmaster General James A. Farley signed a commission reappointing Oscar L. Philipps Postmaster at Santa Claus, Indiana for another four year term. Philipps is the Postmaster who annually plays the role of Santa Claus for thousands of children throughout the U. S. who receive letters from Santa Claus with a genuine Santa Claus postmark affixed to each envelope.

FRAMELESS WOOD HOUSES TO SOLVE LOW-COST HOME NEEDS—Frameless wooden houses to help meet the need for low-cost modern homes are being given final tests by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. After nearly two years of investigations, they expect to have plans in the near future for a modern 4-room house costing between 2 and 3 thousand dollars. Such a "4-room house" includes living room, kitchen and two bedrooms, a bath and a utility room, kitchen equipment with an electric refrigerator, bathroom fixtures, plumbing, heating plant and electrical wiring. The construction system is equally well adapted to larger houses with corresponding reductions in unit-cost. Such a frameless or pre-fabricated wooden house can be put up in a few days on the building spot selected; the house can be one or two story, have a flat or pitched roof and yet will be built without beams, studs, stringers or rafters. It may be set over a cellar or another foundation. Delivery should be as rapid as for a modern automobile.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION—Twenty-two States will be paying unemployment compensation benefits on January 1, 1938. Unemployed workers who are eligible to receive such payments. While the actual disbursements of the benefits may be carried out by different methods, in 12 buds on each, say Penn State fruit specialists. The buds in the middle of the cane produce the best clusters.

STORE EGG CASES—When eggs are coming out of cold storage a supply of empty cases can be purchased economically. Penn State poultry specialists recommend that these cases be stored in a dry, well-ventilated place above ground. The cases should be kept clean and protected from mice and rats.

IMPROVE DAIRY HERDS—The bull association helps to prove sires, say Penn State dairymen. The 55 bull associations in Pennsylvania are using 205 sires, many of which have daughters in production. Many of the proved sires have been used for 10 to 14 years. One association sire is still in service at 17 years of age.

SPECIAL VARIETIES AVAILABLE—There are many peach varieties with special market possibilities. The principal ones are Cerman, Cumberland, Early Elberta, Golden Jubilee, Greenboro, Oriole, Rochester, and South Haven. Penn State fruit specialists say that these varieties are suitable for roadside marketing, retail trade and, in some cases, carlot shipments.

DRAFT ANIMALS BOUGHT—Approximately 92,000 horses and nearly 20,000 mules are shipped into 13 eastern states, including Pennsylvania, as replacements each year. Livestock specialists of the Pennsylvania State College report that small farms, topography of land, and need for economical power favor the use of draft animals.

SIX FOR ADOPTION

We are informed by Mrs. T. A.
Troutman that a brown female hound wandered into their barn
recently and on Christmas night gave birth to a litter of six puppies. There was no collar or other means of identification on the female. Will the owner please call at Troutman's and claim his property? Mrs. Troutman states that they have no desire to keep the
"family", nor any part of them and if the owner does not call for them promptly trying to bring to do so may have to ensure litter.

NEW TEACHERS AFTER 1942 MUST BE COLLEGE GRADS

Harrisburg—Dr. Lester K. Ade, Superintendent of Public Instruction and President of the State Council of Education, announced today that effective February 1, 1940, four years of academic and professional preparation will be the prescribed minimum education for elementary teachers as well as all other teachers.

Some school districts in Pennsylvania now require four years of preparation of their elementary teachers and the Department of Public Instruction requires at least this much training for teachers in schools above the elementary grade.

Teachers in service who hold permanent certificates, Dr. Ade explained, will not be affected by the new regulation, although it is expected that many teachers in the elementary schools who have not completed the more extended education will probably return to the colleges and universities for additional instruction. Ample provisions have been made in the institutions of higher learning to meet the need of these teachers.

The new requirement will likewise not affect anyone now enrolled in teacher preparation curriculums. All such persons will complete their preparation and receive certificates to teach on the basis of the certification regulations now in effect.

The general trend throughout the United States in the matter of extending education for elementary teachers is toward a four year level. Some states, like California, Delaware, and Connecticut, have adopted this more advanced preparation as a minimum level of education for elementary teachers.

Consistent with the general policy of the State Council of Education, approximately five years of advanced notice is given so that all persons looking forward to teaching in the elementary schools of Pennsylvania may be properly advised as to the requirements for a certificate to teach in this field. The resolution adopted by the State Council of Education provides that after February 1, 1939, all persons beginning a preparation for teaching in the elementary field must have completed an approved four year teacher education curriculum in this field to receive certification.

KEEP FLOCK THRIFTY—Breed ing ewes should be treated for internal parasites every month during the winter. A little grain fed during the early part of the win-
